

Dear Toontown Community,

Today is truly a day worth celebrating- one that'll go down in the Shtickerbook as another "Greatest Moments in Toontown History" entry.

Co-Founder and former staff member of Toontown Rewritten Jeremy Koletar, known in the Toontown community as both "jjkoletar" and "Fat McStink," is responsible for directly addressing one of Toontown: Corporate Clash's most pressing technical issues. Server desyncs are close to completely neutralized!

Putting aside any historical differences between the two projects, Jeremy was willing to step up to the plate. Consulting with the Corporate Clash Crew, and thanks to his technical knowledge from Toontown Rewritten, Jeremy was able locate and identify the root cause of desyncs. The Corporate Clash team silently pushed the fix to our server software, Astron, a few days back.

After countless hours of monitoring behind the scenes, we're more than confident that desyncs are almost entirely eradicated from Corporate Clash! All because of the selfless act of a particular higherup figure in the Toontown community.

Because of how small and tight-knit the Toontown community really is in comparison to other currently running MMORPG video games, we feel that it's crucial to work together if Toontown is going to continue for years to come. With the current stigmas present in the Toontown community, you'd almost never expect a former Toontown Rewritten staff member to directly collaborate with another private server, let alone in a technical aspect. Moments like these are to be used as an example of how the Toontown community should be collaborating. Rather than competing with one another or trying to shut each other down, we should aim to build each other up so our community can be all the more vibrant. The spirit of Toontown isn't being kept alive strictly by any one project. Each server is an important piece of the puzzle that completes the Toontown community.

From the bottom of our hearts, we are extremely grateful for the work put in by Jeremy that will grant a smoother experience for all going forward. In return, for our gratitude, we'd like to provide a link to Jeremy's Twitch channel, where he currently streams Toontown Rewritten.

You can check that out here: <https://twitch.tv/jjkoletar>

Toons of The World, UNITE!

The Corporate Clash Crew